The Soldiers' Vote.

The following facts and figures in relation to the soldiers' vote from this state pretty effectually dispose of the claim of the democrats that a large majority of the volunteers belong to that party. We quote from Madison the Journal:

The figures which we give below—including all that have been received at the capital, or been otherwise reliably reported up to noon to-day—come from regiments and companies raised in all parts of the state. They are from soldiers of thirty-six different military organizations, from some who were yet in camp in the state when they voted, from others who had just left its soil, and from yet others whose designated ranks show how long and how hard has been their service. They come from regiments whose officers represent all shades of politics, and from those who are scattered over every part of the wide field where the war for Liberty and Union goes on.

They show that nearly all our soldiers have voted, and that almost every regiment and company—the exceptions being principally of some raised under peculiarly democratic auspices—has a majority of republicans, and that on the army vote, so far as heard from, the republicans have a majority of 4,219, and more than THREE FOURTHS of all the votes. They show, beyond and beyond the cause of the recent democratic "gains" and "victories" elsewhere, to be the absence of republicans in the field, while so many more democrats have stayed at home.

The figures given below are on congressmen. They do not indicate fully the republican strength, for the reason that Col. Guppy runs considerably ahead of his ticket as a Union man, and many of the votes for Stoddard which are put in the democratic column are those of republicans, given for local reasons. We indicate the location of the troops at the time of voting as far as possible:

WHAT ARE THE KNIGHTS OF THE GOLDEN CIRCLE?—In a recent trial in Ohio, involving the charge of being a member of the Knights of the Golden Circle, the following affidavit was made, which throws some light on the organization, objects and mode of operations of that secret ally of the traitors:

"The state of Ohio, Champaign county, ss.—Calvin B. Hess, an able-bodied citizen of said county and state, and over the age of eighteen years, being duly sworn according to law, says, that on the 7th day of August, 1862, he was solicited by Bethuel R. Robert to unite with a secret society called the Knights of the Golden Circle, Robert saying that if I should volunteer or be drafted in the army of the United States it would be worth more than $500 to me. I was at the time talking of volunteering in the army. He stated to me that there were plenty of members of the order around (referring to the neighborhood.) He took me to a private place in a barn, and in an undertone administered to me an oath, the full particulars of which I cannot give, but the substance of it was, as explained by him, that the order of the Knights of the Golden Circle would assist the southern army in putting down the abolitionists of the north, and in taking possession of Washington City—saying that the southern army was most, if not all, members of the Knights of the Golden Circle; that they only wanted their brothers of the north to put down the abolitionists, and not fight against the southern army; that in case any member should be compelled to go in to the army of the United States, they were to so fire their guns as not to strike any of the southern army. They were to receive a sign from their officers, in case any of the officers of the army were members of the order, and they and the officers were to give a sign to the southern army, when near enough to do so, by which they were saved from the fire of the southern army. The private in the northern army who are members of the order are always to point their guns as to over or under shoot the southern soldiers. These, with other things, were explained to me by said Robert as the objects of this secret order of the Knights of the Golden Circle.

CALVIN B. HESS.

A TEDIOSUS JOB.—If the Madison Journal intends to follow up and expose every falsehood or misrepresentation of the Madison Patriot, it has a long job on hand. Its complete refutation of the Patriot's various statements in relation to the soldiers' vote would, however, be necessary if anybody believed the central organ of the democracy, and may be advisable simply to show how little reliance can be placed on any of its statements.

No Report To-Day.

For some unexplained reason we are without any telegraphic report to-day, nothing having been received in Chicago up to three o'clock this afternoon. In addition to this unusual delinquency, the change in the arrival of the mails, which brings the morning papers here at five o'clock P. M., deprives us of the benefit of the Saturday and Sunday night reports. We hope our columns will present no such lameness hereafter.

REMOVAL OF GEN. MCCLLELLAN.—The

New York Tribune of the 11th has the following special dispatch from Washington:

"The statement made by a few journals that are dissatisfied with the recent change in the command of the army of the Potomac, to the effect that the change will cause a delay in the forward movement, is, as we learn through several channels, entirely unfounded. Gen. Burnside, in command, moves quite as speedily as he could have done had he been in command of the army since the battle of Antietam, but he will move much sooner than the general whom he succeeds would have moved.

The givings-out from Gen. McClellan's headquarters, and from officers known to be in his confidence a week ago, were such as to lead to the inevitable inference that the army was about to go into winter quarters on this side of the Rappahannock. It will be noticed that this prediction was never published in letters from the army, and its probability has been confirmed to us by the personal observations of gentlemen who were on the spot, and who speak from what they heard from the staff officers of those major generals who were nearest to the deposed commander.

The 31st Regiment.—The 31st regiment,

Col. Messmore, has broken up camp at Prairie du Chien. Three companies are to remain in camp at Madison. Three companies and as many parts of companies (30 men in all) go to Racine. Their principal business is to look after drafted men ordered to report at Camp Randall and Camp Utley.

Why will Americans have more cause to renege the letter than any other in the alphabet? The letter is the beginning of accession and the end of Jeff. Davis.

THE SEVENTH REGIMENT VOTE.—The

Seventh regiment, Col. Robinson, polled 201 votes,—181 were republican and 20 democratic. The dejected condition of the ranks is the explanation.

CAIRO, Nov. 15.

Special to Chicago Journal.—All the Parisian Rangers who have been pillaging the country about Memphis have been disbanded by Pemberton, and attached to regiments.

The rebel Col. Jackson has been made a brigadier general.

The people of Mississippi are running their negroes back to the interior, leaving only what they cannot carry. They expect our army to enter their state and destroy all the property.

Advices from Memphis say that since the guerrillas have been disbanded cotton is beginning to come forward again in considerable quantities.

The rebels are fortifying, with all possible rapidity, Jackson, Miss., and it is believed their entire army will fall back to that point before giving battle.

Passengers from Helena report that the federal force took possession of Hernando, Mississippi, on Monday.

Lieut. Col. McGill, a Major and a Surgeon of the 26th Iowa, just arrived on the Mississippi shore, opposite Helena, were taken prisoners a few days since. They were half a mile beyond the picket lines looking for ground on which to camp.

New York Nov. 15.

The board of brokers has resolved to agitate sell gold at the Board of Commerce on Monday.

A Washington letter to the Commercial Advertiser says:

"The army will soon be fairly in motion again, and it will be supplied from Alexandria and Aquia Creek by railroad. As soon as the line from the latter place to Fredericksburg is repaired, we may expect a triumphant advance. All that is now wanted is a sufficient cavalry force to patrol the grounds over which our troops will pass, to capture bands of guerrillas which commit so many annoying depredations."

It is said that a Deputy United States Marshal has gone to Trenton to arrest two more of McClellan's staff.

The board of aldermen, to-day adopted a resolution tendering Gen. McClellan the hospitalities of the city.

Gilbert Horne has been sentenced to five years imprisonment for fitting out the slave ship of Norfolk.

£30,000.

This is the exact price of British faith. When the American minister called at the attention of the British government to the notorious fact that the pirate Alabama was fitting out in one of their ports, the government exerted itself and put the vessel under a bond of twenty thousand pounds. For this feature the state was allowed to be fitted out in British port, and to sail out under the British flag to prey upon our unarmed merchantmen, destroying in a single vessel more than the amount of the bond. This is the gauge of British neutrality faith. For twenty thousand pounds a pirate may have a British license to fit out and fall upon a commerce in which it may destroy millions before the intelligence of its sailing can reach this country.

But it was different when our government sent a gunboat to watch the pirate Sumter in a British port. No bonds would answer in that case, but a British frigate was sent to warn our gunboat off the coast. It shows an exceedingly sharp operation. It shows the English eye for profit. The gain which this danger to American vessels brings to English shipowners, makes this twenty thousand pounds return a hundred fold. They could well afford that investment several times a week for the profit they would derive from driving American ships from the carrying trade, by the hazards which these pirates would create.

To estimate the character of this faith, we may suppose that during the Crimean war the Russian government had bought one of our fast steamships, and was notoriously arming and fitting it out in New York harbor to prey upon British commerce, and that upon representations of the British minister, our government should content itself with taking a bond of a hundred thousand dollars from the vessel, and she should openly leave under our flag to put herself in the track of the main commerce across the ocean. That would be a parallel case; but would that be called national faith and honest neutrality?—Cincinnati Gazette.

COMBAT BETWEEN A HAWK AND A SNAKE.

—We have been informed of a singular combat that took place in Pelham, New Hampshire, a few days since, between a hawk and a black snake. Mr. Tristram F. Palmer, while walking in a field in Pelham, came upon a hawk and a black snake in a life-and-death struggle. From appearances the hawk made a descent upon the snake with the expectation of making an easy prey of it, but the result was fatal to both. The snake was finally killed in the talons of the hawk, which had managed to get a coil around one wing and one leg in such a manner as to prevent the bird from disengaging itself, but the snake's body had been picked and torn by the hawk, whose head and neck were at liberty. Apparently the hawk stood the best chance of winning the fight, as the snake appeared to be pretty nearly used up; but the struggle would have proved fatal to both had not the gentleman put an end to it by dispatching the combatants. The snake was three feet and ten inches long, and nearly heavy for its length. The hawk, from tip to tip of the wings, measured precisely the same.

REMARKABLE WORKS OF HUMAN LABOR.

—Nineveh was 14 miles long, 8 wide, and 46 miles round, with a wall 100 feet high, and thick enough for three chariots abreast. Babylon was 50 miles within the walls, which were 75 feet thick, and 100 high, with 100 brazengates. The Temple of Diana, at Ephesus, was 430 feet in the support of the roof. It was 100 years in building. The largest of the pyramids was 481 feet high, and 653 feet on the sides; the base covered eleven acres. The stones are about 60 feet in length, and the layers are 268. It employed 330,000 men in building. The labyrinth in Egypt contains 300 chambers and 12 halls. Thebes in Egypt presents runs 27 miles round, and 100 gates. Carthage was 25 miles round. Athens was 25 miles round, and contained 350,000 citizens and 400,000 slaves. The Temple of Delphos was so rich in treasure that it was plundered of $50,000,000. Nero carried away from it 206 statues. The walls of Rome were 13 miles round.

SPECIAL MEETING OF THE COUNCIL.—At

Correspondence of the Beloit Journal.

CAMP GRANGER, near LEXINGTON, Ky.,
November 14, 1862.

MESSRS. EDITORS: Election came off in our regiment to-day, and to one from home two months it was a pleasant thing, reminding me of past scenes. The result is flattering to every true Union man in the regiment, very few votes being cast for the rebels. Let our friends in the matter to decide myself it would have been somewhat different. I would have liked much to have had my friend Judge O'Connor elected, also S. S. Waterman and Wm. H. Howard, yet as it is not so, like a good citizen I must be satisfied. I give you a list of three companies—Co. B, Capt. Northrop, co. J, Capt. Hodgdon, and co. E, Captain Miles—the companies from our county: Sloan 132, Guppy 18; Lawrence 145, Waterman 17; Treat 4; O'Connor 16; Thomas 1; Smith 35; Fowler 13; Wood 3; Pender 142; Howard 138; Keeler 10; B. 41; co. J, 47; co. E, 61; making 149; Cronk 6; Alden 144, Boss 6; Holdrege 145, Doe 10; Bennett 146, Winans 14; James 141, Clark 16; Locke 145, Stebbins 16; Burnham 144, Martin 15; Norton 148, West 15.

These figures are, I think, correct, or nearly so.

I shall send to the state full and complete returns to-morrow. Our friend Keeler, you see, received more votes than any other candidate on the tickets—a large thing.

Election passed off quietly, as we had no whisky—no, "nary drop." I would have liked much to be at home to-day, for I think you must have had some fun. We have been in camp here one week, and how much longer we may stay I know not. The health of the regiment is good, the weather pleasant, and we are all well.

We had some four inches of snow ten days ago. I do not like the Kentucky policy, but as I cannot change it, must and shall submit.

There is no force of rebels within fifty miles of us, if as near. It is now 12 o'clock at night, and accommodations for writing being not of the best, I must close. Hoping to receive your paper often, I remain as ever,

WARREN HOBBS,

Capt. Com'g Co. G, 22d Regt.

TROUBLES OF FIFTEEN-HUNDRED GUNS.—The

new Monitor Passaic has made another trial of her fifteen-inch gun. A skillful gunner might throw a shell into a porthole large enough for these guns; therefore the porthole was fitted for firing through without protruding the gun, being little larger than the ball. The first fire was as much as the crew dared to risk in that experiment. The smoke and fire filled the turret. Then a flange was fitted to the muzzle of the gun and the curve of the turret to inclose the space. The last trial was of this contrivance. Thirty-five pounds of powder and a hollow shot were used. The concussion lifted the perforated shield plates on top of the turret, one of which fell on Capt. Worden's foot. The volume of flame from the muzzle set the tackle for hoisting the shot on fire, burned the eyebrows and hair of one of the gun crew, and the force of the gas tore the clothing off the crew. It was also that although the extra flange might fit the inside curve of the turret, the gun must recoil before the charge left it. It was rather queer that ordnance officers should have to experiment to find that out. The result proved that the porthole must be enlarged so as to let the muzzle of the gun protrude, or some sliding arrangement like the joints of a telescope must be contrived to keep up the connection with the porthole while the gun recoils.

A WIFE OR A DOCTOR'S BILL.—A young lady 16 years old, named Addie Jamieson, in getting out of an Amity street omnibus last spring, fell and broke one of her legs. A young M. D. who lived in that street had the suffering girl taken into his boarding house, close by, where he set the broken limb, and she was then carried home. He continued his attendance, fell in love with her, and finally offered her his hand in marriage. She accepted; but Mr. Jamieson, the girl's father, refused his assent to the match, because the doctor was poor, and as yet had little practice. Sawbones thereupon made out a bill at two dollars per visit for two hundred and eighteen visits, and $20 for setting the broken leg. He meant to be paid for his courting if it had all got to go for nothing. The old man finding that he must pay some four or five hundred dollars, or lose his daughter, finally gave in, and the doctor was paid in full. A receipt in full, and the juvenile Jamieson is now Mrs. Dr. Grayson, of 416 Bleeker street.

MR. COBURN AND THE WAR.—Mr. Cobden has addressed his constituents at Rochdale, a member of Capt. John Gordon's company, died last week at Island No. 10 of typhoid fever. He was a fine soldier and considered one of the best in the company.

FROM OZAUKEE.—

Bank Comptroller Ramsey has returned from Ozaukee. He left that place yesterday afternoon. All was quiet. One hundred and twenty-three persons had been sent off as prisoners to Milwaukee. The reports of the destructiveness of the mob have not been exaggerated. Pianos were broken in pieces with axes. Pieces of cotton cloth found in some private houses were torn in narrow strips. Stores were knocked down and thrown in the streets, windows and blinds destroyed, and happy and luxurious houses made an utter desolation in many cases, when the owners were in no other way except that of being a man, republican or native born American, or some equally frivolous pretext to call down the vengeance of the mob.
